What exactly do you do today?

I work full-time as a freelance makeup and hair stylist.

My assignments are very diverse:

musicals like Marie Antoinette or Alice in Wonderland, shows at Plopsaland, and even Tomorrowland. There, I was responsible for hair and makeup for the crew.

In addition, I also do weddings and commercial shoots. No day is the same—and that's what makes it so much fun.

Do you have any tips for future entrepreneurs?

Absolutely! Do an internship and build a portfolio—that opens doors.

And be honest with clients: not everything is possible, depending on their skin or hair. Explain what's realistic, but always in a respectful way.

And most importantly: keep learning. Even after your training.
